This is a map of the locations of news articles which were collected for the Food For Thought project with Data Science for Social Good – Atlanta and the Atlanta Community Food Bank (ACFB). The ACFB was interested on the discourse regarding the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) across various U.S. media outlets. Articles were scraped by keywords using webhose.io. While there is a wide geographic distribution of the locations of the media outlets, there are a lack of articles collected from media outlets in the north central part of the U.S.
